The comprehensive resource on domestic violence

Who is the Ohio Domestic Violence Network?

The Ohio Domestic Violence Network is a coalition of domestic violence programs, supportive agencies, and concerned individuals mobilizing the community to ensure the elimination of domestic violence in Ohio.

ODVN works to:

- Promote social and systems change through public policy initiatives and community education.
- Strengthen and support Ohio's response to domestic violence through technical assistance, training, and conferences.
- Expand the movement to end violence against women and children through collaborative efforts.
- Ensure that the voice of Ohio's abused women and children will be heard in the General Assembly and U.S. Congress.

Welcome to the ODVN Training Institute

ODVN wants to give you extra planning time to consider trainings for 2007 and 2008. We will continue to send out our quarterly brochure with detailed descriptions of offered trainings. If you do not currently receive the quarterly brochure and would like your name added to our mailing list, please contact us at 800-934-9840. You may also access the Training Institute brochure on our web-site at www.odvn.org.

In addition to our regional trainings, ODVN continues to offer on-site trainings on a variety of issues including:

- Safety Planning
- Developing a Coordinated Community Response
- Revictimization of Survivors
- Prevention
- Working with Survivors who Abuse Alcohol and Drugs
- Health Care and Domestic Violence
- Domestic Violence in the Workplace
- Holding Batterers Accountable: Batterers Intervention or Anger Management?

On-site training costs will vary. Please contact ODVN to learn more details.
